Mr. J.B. Vells, Pres.
Famous Imports
1019 Baroune St.,
New Orleans, La.

Dear J.B.,

You are faster to give than to receive. Unusual.

I have been waiting since my return for the list of books you'd like. I do not want you to be without a set until you get around to it, so I am sending them to you. Please, do, let me know what else you'd like and I send them.

You were going to check on whether you had employed Philip Geraci and let me know.

Since my return I have finished the book begun just before I left for New Orleans and drafted another. Thus I have, now, three unpublished books. To think that on this subject I have written seven books (not counting incomplete work) is in itself wearying!

How is your museum going? I've heard nothing of it.

Often I think of your kindness. It is warming.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
